Jennifer el Hassani Perpetual Trophy

Horses were Jennie's passion, and she was never happier than when riding, learning and instructing. She also had plans to become a dressage judge. Sadly, Jennie passed away early in 2012.

The Jennifer el Hassani Perpetual Trophy has been introduced in her memory as an encouragement award for those riders who have left school and are embarking on their professional careers, while still competing on their horses.

It is open to riders 18-25 years; either riding Official or Associate classes, as a Hi Point Young Riders award, and is based on placings in their best two tests ridden.

For 2012, the inaugural award has been presented to:

Gabrielle Pither and Alchemy's Niece
